ACCUSED MAN COLLAPSES ON STAND

MARTINEZ, June 27.—With both defense and prosecution closing their cases today, the fate of Justice of the Peace A. H. Mackinnon of El Cerrito, charged with driving while drunk will be placed in the hands of a jury tomorrow afternoon.

It is expected that the jury will receive its instructions at an early hour tomorrow afternoon.

Judge Mackinnon was the chief witness for the defense today. During his testimony in the morning, he suddenly collapsed while on the stand, complaining of severe cramps.

Court in Uphear

The court room was thrown into an uproar when Mrs. Mackinnon and her daughter rushed to the witness stand as the jurist collapsed. He was removed to the anteroom where he was treated by Dr. C. B. Fitzpatrick who said he had suffered a nervous spell caused by his heart but that he was "all right." Mackinnon was later called to the stand in the afternoon.

Mackinnon told the court that he had attended a birthday party at the David Evans home in San Pablo and during the party he had partaken of "fruit juice." He declared he stayed at the home all night and at breakfast he imbibed two cups of black coffee.

"Felt Ill"

After leaving the house, he said, he began to feel ill and drove into the service station to ask aid. Traffic Officer Ed Keefe there placed him under arrest, accusing him of intoxication. At this point in the testimony, Judge Mackinnon collapsed and was removed from the stand.

Two doctors testified prior to Mackinnon. They were Dr. J. H. Van Tassel of Oakland who declared that he knew Mackinnon for a number of years and that he had attended him. He said that Mackinnon suffered from high blood pressure and that he had a very nervous disposition.

Dr. Van Tassel testified that "fruit juice" would produce fermentation several hours after being drunk and would leave an odor on a person's breath similar to that of alcohol.

Dr. Spaulding Called

Dr. J. E. Spaulding of Richmond was then called to the stand. He responded to a hypothetical question that Mackinnon was not drunk when arrested. Dr. Spaulding described his method of testing for intoxication as being entirely different from the test used by Dr. Deeds, of Walnut Creek, who had pronounced Mackinnon drunk.

The tests used by Dr. Deeds included breath, a weaving walk and required his subject to repeat the phrase, "The ragged robin ran round the rugged rock." Dr. Spaulding declared that this test did not necessarily mean that the subject was drunk.

Tells of Tests

Dr. Spaulding testified that his method of determining intoxication included a stomach test and temperature test. He admitted, under cross examination, that he had not employed this method in three recent examinations as "the condition of the persons examined was obvious." This caused laughter and Judge H. V. Alvarado had to raise for order.

H. W. Johnson of Orinda, a clerk, testified that he saw Judge Mackinnon collapse on the stand.

HELP RUSHED TO SINKING VESSEL

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—(Friday) UP—Sixteen members of the crew of the stranded lumber steamer Hartwood which ran aground at Point Reyes last night were rescued by coast guards from the Point Reyes station tonight.

The men were brought in by a subboat sent to the wreck from the station. Twelve men remain on the ship but they are believed to be in no danger.

Belief was expressed that the ship would be stranded high and dry at low tide this morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Flares, indicating dire need for assistance were sent up by the S. S. Hartwood, lumber carrier, after the radio had been out of commission, as it pounded against the rocks off Pt. Reyes, endangering the lives of 25 men on board late tonight.

The three were observed by officers of the S. S. Admiral Peoples which was proceeding at full speed to help the stricken vessel.

Some doubt was expressed here, however, that the Admiral Peoples could approach close enough to the 11 to remove Captain Carl Benston and 22 men of his crew.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—UP—Lives of more than a score of sailors were believed in danger tonight when the steamer Hartwood, lumber carrier, floundered on a distant reef, saying it was on the rocks at Point Reyes off the northern California coast.

The S. O. S. was sent out at 9:18 p. m. The McFar radio station for ships at sea reported to the United Press here. No details were given in the first call for assistance.

Mariners here estimated that a steamer like the Hartwood might carry a crew of 25 or 30 men.

Advices were also received from the steamer in Admiral Benston that it was standing by the Hartwood but it gave no indication as to just how serious the situation was.

There were 23 men on board the S. S. Hartwood, president of the Hartwood lumber company, operator of the vessel said.

Point Reyes is about 75 miles north of here. The velocity of the wind there, when the Hartwood went aground was 30 miles an hour, and it was foggy, according to the Marine department of the chamber of commerce here.

Webb announced that he had ordered the tug Sea Scout to leave this harbor to be of any assistance required and would take further steps as soon as relief work was "a little better organized."

He said the passengers were on the ship, which sailed from here at 5 p. m. today for William harbor. (Continued on Page 3)

THE WOMAN OF IT

If We Were a Graduate's Fairy Godmother

W HO isn't hunting, these June days, for a present for some young thing? June is one of the year's two gift-months—

And isn't it lucky, for all our pocketbooks, that it comes half the year away from Christmas?

Perhaps you are planning heavily on silver, or cut glass, or clock, or candelabra.

Or some other costly and solid wedding present—

But, since many more girls and boys are being graduated than married—

More likely you are hunting necklaces and bracelets—

Or cufflinks and cigar cases—

Or some other small personal token of affection and congratulation.

For the youngster you know best, who has collected a diploma.

Some little thing you can buy in a shop is all very well.

For cousin, or nephew, or niece, or young friend—

But many a woman in her heart has wished

That to a loved son or daughter she could make a more valuable graduation gift.

That to this young thing, adventuring in to life, she could play fairy godmother, and could bestow certain true magic, rather than watch or ring.

Here's what we'd give, in the honest belief.

That youth may carry no talismans of greater price:

To every girl and boy on the threshold of the grown-up world.

We would give work—

Work that they'd find profitable and useful, but, above all else, interesting—

Work out of which, in their own technicality, they'd get a kick.

After all, most of us spend most of our lives at some job or other—

Then, isn't it the merest common sense, the shrewdest common necessity, to find the job?

That is something which we, on the whole, like to do?

Our second godmother's graduation gift to the youngster would be love—

The love, laughing, tender, pasha-like love of the right sort of marriage—

The companionship and protection and sheer ecstasy of mate-love given and received—

Just as soon as youth is sufficiently poised and mature to value it.

If the young are thwarted, betrayed, put out with life's cheaply transient ardors.

They will grow into bitter middle age, feeling with a sense of frustration, that it could not have happened once—

And we missed it, lost it, forever.

Our third gift this would-be godmother would bestow—

The seeing eye for beauty in curling, green-lined ways of 1929 graduates.

In scarlet cardinal flowers jeweling a summer brook.

In a setting sun like a huge mandarin-red lantern.

In bare tree-branches dry-pointed against a turquoise January sky.

In midnight pouring gold doubloons on a dark tide.

No matter how much the human world hurts and disappoints youth.

I can never be quite unhappy if it knows how to go for solace.

To the world of sea and sky and flower.

Fourth and last of our fairy godmother gifts to youth would be intelligence—

The clean, keen, self-starting thought that makes all things possible.

It seems to us that the wisest words said to any group of 1929 graduates.

Were spoken to the Senior Class at the University of Chicago.

By its new young President-to-be, Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, Dean of the Yale Law School:

"My view of university training is to unsettle the minds of young men," he said.

"To widen their horizons, to inflame their intellects."

"It is not a hardening or settling process."

"Education is not to teach men facts, theories or laws."

"It is not to reform them, or amuse them."

"Or to make them expert technicians in any field."

"It is to teach them to think."

"To think straight if possible."

"But to think always for themselves."

There, of all our four fairy charms, is the one most needed by America's June graduates.

If, somehow, they can come by it.

All else—work, love and beauty—shall be added unto them!

THE MOTHER OF IT

If Mother's Pride and Joy is quiet, it is refined—

If Neighbor's P. and J. is quiet, it is dumb.

If Mother's P. and J. is loud, it is a "diddle."

If Neighbor's P. and J. is loud, it is vulgar.

If Mother's P. and J. talks much, it is smart—

If Neighbor's P. and J. talks much, it is a chatterbox.

If Mother's P. and J. talks little, it is of observing mentality—

If Neighbor's P. and J. talks little, it doesn't know much.

If Mother's P. and J. says naughty words, it is manly—

If Neighbor's P. and J. says naughty words, it isn't brought up properly.

If Mother's P. and J. says just the nice things, he is a sissy.

Moral: Never try to please your neighbor with YOUR child—it "can't be diddled!"

BETTY GEFFEN.

Why Don't We Rock?

According to furniture stylists, the rocking chair is said to be on the way to the museum, or the dustheap—and what woman under fifty is surprised?

Does she or any of her friends sit in a rocker, as their mothers invariably did?

TERROR

I'm not afraid of shadows that entomb the streets at night, nor is there any room.

Within my being for uncanny fears.

Of death to mar the rhythm of my years.

I'm not afraid of any man-made ghost: I fear myself, myself I fear the most!

MARRIAGE ON THE EUROPEAN PLAN

N OW that the German reparations are settled, Europe's next big financial problem is uniting Mabelle Gilman Corey with Prince Luis of Bourbon, cousin of the King of Spain and client of all the uncies of Europe.

It seems that Mabelle has popped the question, but Luis's bankers have not yet murmured "yes."

Marrying a member of European royalty is like buying an electric icebox on the installment plan. There are so many dollar signs in the wedding clause there is no room for love, honor and obey.

The most approved form of marriage contract in Europe this season strums along something like this:

MARRIAGE CONTRACT

WHEREAS Gertrude Gilrocks, hereinafter called Gertrude, and being of weak mind and sound financial status, has agreed to marry Prince Bloomy of Bologna, therefore, be it resolved:

That Gertrude doth promise to love, honor and pay all restaurant checks of the said Prince of Bologna.

That Gertrude doth agree to keep her Prince in silk underwear till laundry soap and washing powder them doth part into aheads.

That Gertrude agrees to pay rent, light, heat, telephone, butcher, grocery and wine bills of the home, chateau or castle of which Prince Bloomy of Bologna shall be lord and master.

That Gertrude shall give Prince Bloomy of Bologna Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, Tuesdays, Saturdays and Thursdays off and in consideration of this she shall Prince of Bologna agree to show up for Sunday dinner.

That Gertrude shall provide Prince Bloomy with front and back lockers to the chateau on a platinum key ring.

That Gertrude shall furnish her Prince with elegant money and that for purposes of computation the price of cigars shall be regarded as $4.50 for a pack of ten.

That Gertrude shall buy eight opera hats for the Prince, or one for each night of the opera and Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

That Prince Bloomy of Bologna, faro and roulette losses shall be Gertrude's to have and to hold the bag.

That Gertrude shall buy and provide upkeep for a stable of pet monkeys.

That Gertrude doth agree to serve Prince Bloomy his breakfast in bed up to 3 P. M.

That the movie rights of the wedding shall belong exclusively to Prince Bloomy of Bologna.

That the said Gertrude shall pay for the upkeep, repairs, gasoline and oil consumed by the cars, but that Prince Bloomy, on his part, will pay for the water in the radiators and the air in the tires.

And in consideration of the above, Prince Bloomy of Bologna doth agree—

That Prince Bloomy shall at all times refer laughingly to Gertrude as his wife.

That Gertrude shall be known to every one as the Princess of Bologna unless she is called something else.

That Prince Bloomy shall at times provide standing room for Gertrude at garden parties and teas thrown by his cousin, King Rinsio of Luxembourg.

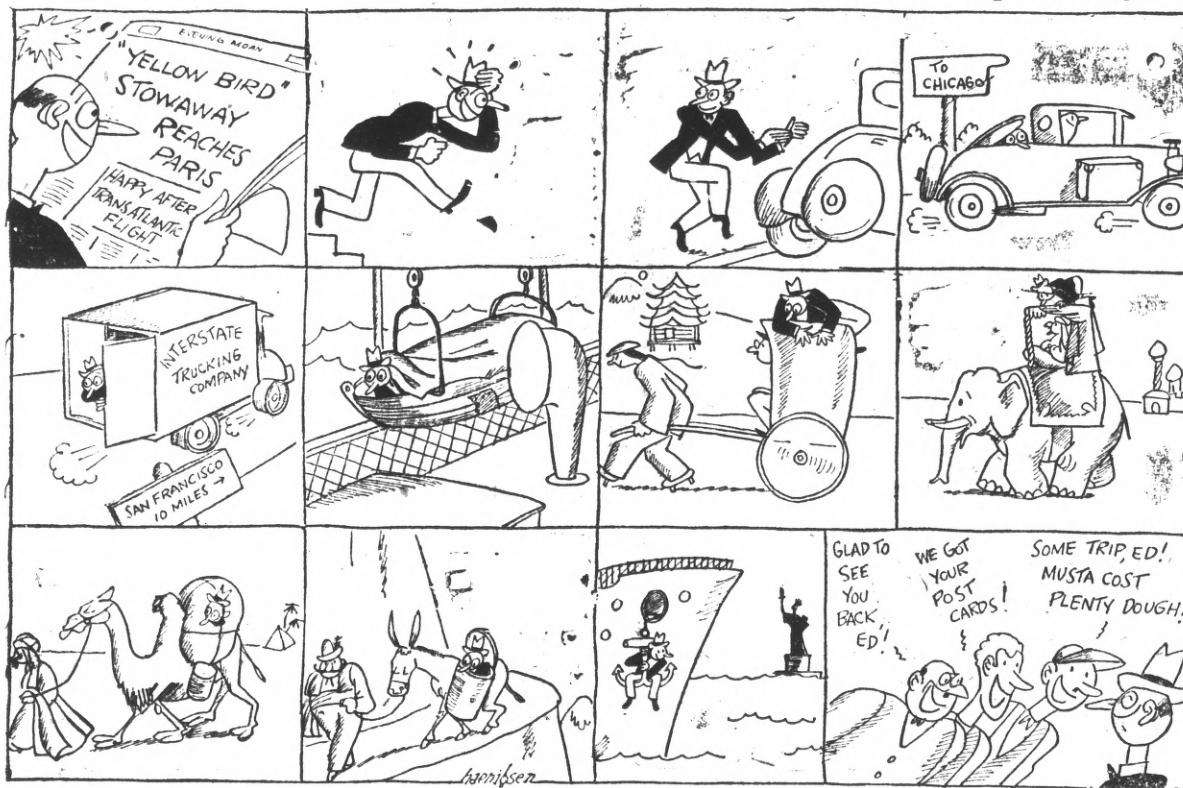

That Prince Bloomy shall share with Gertrude his royal family jewels, at present consisting of strings of pearls, securely locked up in unopened oysters.

WHEREFORE, it is agreed that Gertrude Gilrocks and Prince Bloomy of Bologna are legally married till death do us part.

And heretofore we affix our seal: BRUCE, POWERHOUSE & COMPANY (Certified Public Accountants)

The World's Window

Ludendorff's Notions

PARIS, June.—Herr Ludendorff, former German Commander, is seriously quoted as an authority on race research in a book published by the Leipzig University. The book itself deals largely with the Jews and the forged documents on the "Secrets of the Elders of Zion" that have been cropping up these last two hundred years or so, and that have their day in the public eye not long ago in the United States. Ludendorff is cited as one of the most important contributors to racial research in recent years. Yet, truth of the matter is that the General, far from adding a single original contribution of his own to the subject, has done nothing but calumniate and insult a number of his own countrymen with his ridiculous assertions and charges that Jews and Jesuits and Free Masons were in cahoots to bring about the downfall of Germany. The very combination confutes such an argument. When the General, however, calls upon his fellow-Germans to abandon Christianity and re-adopt the old Teutonic gods of Valhalla, he is far more interesting and even original. Something even could be said for such a theory. He wants to show that the great Nordics did not need to borrow their religious creeds from despised Easterners. Therefore back to Odin and Thor or adopt the Persian religion of Zarathustra in a pinch. For the Persians are 100 per cent white people. They belong to the cream of the earth, the Aryan elite.

"Stark Horror"

"Stark horror lurks behind these figures," says a statement by the United Church in Canada, referring to the 100,000 skins that are annually sold in North America. Millions of dumb creatures are tortured to death because fashion insists that women shall wear furs. Fashion, not nature, or necessity, made the decree whereby millions of creatures with flesh and blood and senses like ourselves, must suffer long-drawn-out agonies of fear and pain, and die in unspeakable misery. A picture lies before us which for sheer callousness and cold-blooded brutality surpasses even the horrors of the Inquisition. It is an illustration from a trapmaker's catalogue showing the working of a fiendish instrument: "See how the flesh of the trapped leg swells into the groove between the two jaw faces, effecting a positive and escape-proof hold!" In the old days the poor thing had a chance of freedom by chewing its foot off.

Election

Unbought elections are things unknown and, indeed, illegal in France. Here, if nobody comes along to vote for you, you are not elected. The recent municipal elections all over the country presented examples of the fact. In five communes of the same Department of Vaucluse there are to-day no municipal councils, for no one turned up to vote for keeping the existing village elders in office. All sorts of ingenious rules have been made for arriving at a clear majority, but no one has ever thought of devising a quorum for electoral purposes.

Avoid Kitchen Leaks

WASTE in cooking probably causes one of the greatest kitchen leaks in our homes. Careless paring is one of these. Other facts may be substituted for butter in many cases. All suet and pieces of fat can be tried out and used in cooking. Bacon fat is excellent for frying fish. Chicken fat gives fried potatoes a pleasing flavor. When soup gets cold skim off the fat and use it for frying meats and potatoes.

The inner stalks of celery are more or less cut off at both ends. In a large mass this will be quite a slim waste. How much bread is wasted daily on account of carelessness in toasting or making croutons? Much food waste is caused by placing food on the range or in the oven to re-heat and forgetting all about it.

FOR THE 5 O'CLOCK TEA

IN A cool corner of the living room—a deep, comfortable divanport; a table carefully laid, its service of sterling silver gleaming softly; plates, cups and spoons just so; dainty sandwiches—and you have at hand the properties for that most charming form of entertainment—5 o'clock tea.

Every feminine heart loves the luxury of serving tea for it satisfies in such a simple way the love of fine and dainty things inherent in all women. Yet to achieve gracefully this "at home" ritual, certain rules must be observed. In spite of its disarming air of informality, etiquette of 5 o'clock tea does not vary, whether it be served in the tiny apartment or in the elaborate Fifth Avenue home.

An important consideration is the position of the tea table, which should be placed in such a way that the hostess will face her guests or be seated near them in a companionable way. If one uses a nest of small tables it is convenient to distribute them among the guests, perhaps reserving the largest one for the tea tray—the high spot of interest of course.

Out comes the finest, daintiest tea set as a foundation for the service which in the setting illustrated is of sterling—that most dignified and correct service, possessed by all who can afford it or can acquire it in a diplomatic way.

Upon the large silver tray are placed the cream jar, sugar bowl and food for to cool it. Ladling the steaming tea pot, its handle toward the outside, within convenient reach of the hostess's hand to pour. Outside the tray, in the center of the table, stands the curate,

When You Eat

Do not sip liquid from the tip of the spoon. It should be taken from the side.

Remember it is not good form to break crackers or bread into the soup—these should be eaten with the fingers.

Never blow the soup or any hot beverage to cool it. Ladling the steaming tea pot, its handle toward the outside, within convenient reach of the hostess's hand to pour. Outside the tray, in the center of the table, stands the curate,

Use a fork for eating all vegetables—even the peas.

Off-White Shoes

BECAUSE they add distinction to sun tan shades, shoes of off-white add the right touch of color to sports and daytime costumes in the pastels. This delicate tint is not as uncompromising with sun tan hosiery as the snow white shoe. Stunning models are in combinations of lilac and khaki for formal afternoon wear, in linen with kid trim to complement cotton frocks, as well as other media.

The Beauty Shop

Summer Foot Comfort

W HAT business has this subject in the Beauty Shop? Well, just fancy trying to look serene and lovely with a bunion on a wet day. The disposition, the carriage and, of course, the face are all affected by the state of the feet.

However, the bunion is not the burden of our song to-day. We prefer to talk about the problem of burning, swelling feet. This being the open season for them.

The first step toward solid foot comfort in summer is the proper sort of shoes. Straw is the ideal material, because it is light and airy, and low-heeled strap pumps are the ideal style.

As to size, it is wisdom to order summer shoes half a size larger than the foot calls for. Feet expand in warm weather, you know, and this expansion must be provided for. Otherwise they're bound to be trouble.

By way of further help in this connection, it is well to take a special foot bath before going out for a walk, even a short walk. Ice cold water containing a teaspoonful or two of alum makes a remarkably soothing, cooling astringent bath. Followed with a dusting of boric acid powder or talcum, it is a foot conditioner par excellence.

If after this the feet come back from their walk feeling the worse for it, give them a gentle rubdown with equal parts of warm water and witch hazel, and after that a dusting with talcum or boric acid or a specially prepared foot powder.

Do you know the art of resting feet? Lie down, but instead of putting a pillow under your head, put two pillows under your feet. The idea being to draw the blood away from the poor overworked members and thus relieve them of strain for a period.

Occasionally treat the feet to an ice bath. Simply wrap a piece of ice in a soft towel and rub this over the soles of the feet gently. It acts as a sort of pick-me-up to fatigued, burning soles. Be kind to your feet always, not only in summer but throughout the year. They are so important to your general appearance and your charm.

The Farmer's Advice

By Alfalfa Smith

THE other day a woman asked me what she had to do to start in the mail order business.

This is not a new question and I am not going to answer it here, but I will say this—I asked if she was ready to do what she wanted to do.

I ask you the same question—are you ready to do what you want to do?

Are you ready for money? Are you ready for prosperity? Thousands have gone down before prosperity—they could not stand it—and you often hear this saying, "He couldn't stand prosperity."

If you are graduating from school or college and going out into the great big world—Are you ready?

If you are going to take a partner on life's journey, do you know all there is to know about matrimony and what it implies?

Are you ready? If you are going to take a job this summer—Are you ready?

Ask yourself this all important question—Am I ready to do what I WANT to do?

Simply delicious and deliciously simple cookies take the place of a June afternoon. Crisp mouthfuls of chewy cookie taste ever so much better with cold drinks or afternoon tea than giant rounds of the same mixture.

Miniature cookies bake in such a short time that the kitchenette is not over-heated even on a June morning. A series of cookie sheets or inverted bakings dotted with the spoons of dough facilitate popping the cookies into the waiting oven. No waits between bakings!

Brown sugar, raisins and coconut lend their distinct flavors to these very good

COCONUT RAISINS

Two-thirds cup fat.
One and one-half cups light brown sugar.
One-fourth cup milk.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
One-half teaspoon nutmeg.
One-half teaspoon cinnamon.
Two cups flour.
Two teaspoons baking powder.
One-half cup coconut.

One-half cup raisins.
Baking time, twelve minutes in moderate oven, 375 degrees F.

Yield: about three dozen.

Broken walnuts, pecans or almonds may be added to the ingredients with good results. Dates may please some tastes more than raisins.

The cookie kit includes a mixing bowl, measuring cup, large spoon, teaspoon, sifter, greased cookie sheets, thermometer, clock.

Prepare the raisins and coconut first. Small raisins may be used whole. The coconut is good as is, or ground. Light the oven.

Work the fat—butter or any preferred shortening—in a cream in the mixing bowl and gradually add the light brown sugar. To this creamy mass beat in the eggs, one at a time. Beat for a minute.

Measure the flour into the sifter upon the baking powder, salt, nutmeg, nutmeg and sift upon a paper; then sift again. Alternate the milk and flour mixture, beating between each addition, until all are used. Then fold in the raisins and coconut.

Drop bite of dough from the end of a teaspoon upon the greased cookie sheet at intervals of three inches. Bake in the moderate oven until a light brown, or the cookies may be lifted with a flexible knife. Cool and then serve, or pack in an airtight box for later consumption.

Hawaiian Hop Anniversary Celebrated

OAKLAND AIRPORT, June 27.—UP—Two years ago tonight the Army Fokker monoplane, "Bird of Paradise," was poised on the runway here ready for the first airplane flight from the United States to the Hawaiian Islands across the Pacific ocean.

On June 28, 1927, shortly after daylight, Lieutenant Lester J. Maitland and Albert Hagenberger of the United States army, took off on the historic flight across 2,000 miles of water.

The second anniversary of the adventure will not be celebrated here. Except for memories called to mind by those who witnessed the take-off there will be nothing to mark the day.

Although three airplanes have since traversed the air trail blazed by Maitland and Hagenberger, the exploit of the two pioneers has remained of outstanding interest and importance.

Aid Rushed To Sinking Ship

Carl Enstrom, of Alameda, is the captain of the Hartwood. The ship in distress was built at Aberdeen, Wash., in 1916. It is of 964 gross tons, having a length of 199.3 feet and a breadth of 42 feet.

All radio broadcasting on the Pacific coast was ordered halted immediately after the first S. O. S.

The call for assistance was flashed out by the Hartwood's radio operator at 9:18 p. m. It was picked up by a United Press operator, the McKay radio station and ships at sea.

Communication with the ship was lost at 9:58 p. m. after it reported it had slipped off the rocks but could not determine how serious the damage to the hull had been.

Shortly after 11 p. m. the United Press operator heard the operator of the Admiral Peoples send out a message that the fog was so thick that the vessel would most likely have to stand by until dawn before going closer to land. He was trying to tell the operator of the Hartwood how to make a sender out of his receiver.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping." Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. It works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. KAISER MAY RETURN TO GERMANY

BERLIN, June 27. (UP)—Tumultuous scenes in the Reichstag today marked the defeat of a bill providing for the extension of the law of protection of the Republic. Failure of the measure enables the former German Kaiser to return to this country after July 23 without the government being able to prohibit.

The vote was 263 for extension of the law to 16 against it, with two absentees, but there was not a two-thirds majority as required for passage.

The defeat of the bill was due to a last-minute change of attitude by the economic party, which was said to be dissatisfied with the outcome of voting on the land reform measure.

Announcement of the defeat caused Nationalist party members to cheer while the Socialists booed. For a moment there was danger of an exchange of blows between Professor Trede, the Economic party leader, and Deputy Breitscheid, the Socialist chief.

The government announced that a new law with the same aim as the defeated one will be introduced later.

There was absolutely no indication that the former Kaiser has any intention of returning here from his exile at Doorn, but various factions of the Nationalist political parties have long openly advocated permission for his return.

Lecture Delivered By John W. Doorly

thought of the multitude, along with the father's thought: "O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I suffer you? Bring him unto me." As soon as Jesus' spiritual thinking asserted itself, the diseased condition was chemically and stirred. Whether Jesus was dealing with the thought of the multitude or with the father's thought or with the thought of the patient, it was all part of the case, because this or diseased belief existed not only in the boy's own thought but also in the thought of the multitude and of the father; it existed in the carnal mind or in mortal thought, and it had to be dealt with and silenced there by the Mind of Christ. Jesus then further proceeded to deal with the thought of the father. He asked him a question, "How long it is ago since this came unto him?" Did the mighty Nazarene really desire to know this? Not at all! He knew all things and could heal all manner of disease with a word. He was leading the father's mind, sense, his materialism, his fear, and his doubt, to declare itself and no expose itself; in fact, he was still further preparing the ground for the healing. Immediately the father broke forth into another outburst about the nature of the disease and what it had done to the child. Jesus was uncovering and destroying the father's false sense about God and about man; also his materiality, which no doubt had much to do with the child's condition. The father's thought was not yet healed. Jesus said unto him, "If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth." What was this man to believe in? The perfect God and the spiritual man which the Christ always reveals. This is now the third time that Jesus dealt with the father's false thinking. But now the father was ready to let go his false sense. He cried out and said with tears, "Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief." Jesus' spiritual understanding of God and of the true man had uncovered and obliterated the father's fear and his belief in incurable disease, so that he could at last discern something of the truth and the healing power of Truth. The father's thinking had been changed. Some progress had been made in destroying the false beliefs of the carnal mind which seemed to support and sustain that diseased belief. Now the way was clear to deal with the thought of the patient and with the diseased belief itself—a belief of the carnal mind. Immediately Jesus, with the absolute understanding of the true God and the spiritual man, gave the command, "Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him." The Christ was rebuking the carnal mind, the liar, and its lying belief of disease. Always, the false belief of the carnal mind was bound to disappear into its nothingness before the Christ, revealing the truth about God and about man. Immediately the boy was healed. Some measure of the truth about God and about man had been demonstrated. The result was the destruction of one of the carnal mind's beliefs about man. This belief had been destroyed not only in the boy's thought, but also in the thought of his father and of the multitude.

This is the case concerning which Jesus' disciples asked him afterwards, "Why couldst thou not cast him out?" he replied, "This kind cometh forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting." As we deny all material sense and welcome the Christ, revealing to us the truth about God and about man, then are we truly praying and fasting. Even the most subtle forms of disease and of sin will disappear before this activity of the Christ. A close study of the healings accomplished by Jesus will show that he was always dealing primarily with the mortal mentality, the supposed cause of sin and disease, and that he dealt with it through a right understanding of God and of man. In dealing with these conditions Jesus sometimes made concessions to the ignorance of the age, but it is clear that whatever he did was for the purpose of dispelling mortal thought. Sometimes he reasoned away obstructing thought when he dealt with it; sometimes he spat out matter to show his scorn of materialism, sometimes he touched matter as a concession to the patient's thought or thought of the multitude. Sometimes he led the patient away from the multitude, and at other times he healed the sufferer before the multitude. Sometimes he rebuked mortal thought severely, sometimes he dealt with it mentally and silently. Whatever he did, however, was for the purpose of influencing thought, because he knew that all the woes of mankind originated and existed in mortal thought or in a false sense of God and of man. He also knew that a demonstrable spiritual understanding of God and of the true man would destroy mortal thought, and of the carnal mind, and of its false beliefs.

MRS. CHANDLER WILL ATTEND DEDICATION

Thousands of east bay residents will have an opportunity to enjoy a long, cool drink of Mokelumne river water at the dedication ceremonies in honor of the completion of the project, to be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the San Pablo highway at the western end of the Orinda golf links.

A corps of the east bay's prettiest girls, representing various of the nine cities making up the district, will have a generous supply of paper cups and an endless quantity of Mokelumne water fresh from the mountains and will pass among the thirsty celebrants serving the refreshing liquid. It was announced by Joseph M. Parker, manager of the Oakland chamber of commerce, chairman of the committee in charge of the ceremony.

Parker said the paper cups will be numerous, the water cool and the girls pretty, and he urged all and sundry to attend. Arrangements for the gathering were made rapidly yesterday and will be complete by tomorrow, it was said. Acceptances have been received from Mayor John L. Davis of Oakland, and from most of the other mayors of the nine cities, all of whom are to occupy seats on the reviewing stand with the speakers. Along with them will be chamber of commerce leaders from Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, San Leandro, Piedmont, Albany, El Cerrito and Richmond. The latter city will enjoy the distinction of sending the only woman mayor, Mrs. Mattie Chandler.

Among the distinguished guests will be Lynn Atkinson and W. A. Kettlewell, the contractors of the Pacific dam, who rushed that huge structure to completion in two years, a full two years ahead of schedule, in pouring Mokelumne water into San Pablo reservoir last Sunday afternoon, thereby averting a serious water famine in the east bay cities. Atkinson and Kettlewell are said to have established a world's time record for a job of this magnitude, the Pacific dam being the largest concrete dam ever built. The ceremony will take place at the head of San Pablo reservoir, so that those attending can, by walking a few hundred feet, get a glimpse of the water itself as it enters San Pablo creek. Unlimited room will be provided for parking of automobiles, it was announced.

Crook Drama On Screen At The Richmond

"Brass Knuckles," a Warner Bros. production, starring Monte Blue and Betty Bronson and directed by Lloyd Bacon, comes to the Richmond theater tonight for a run of two days. Both story and scenario were done by Harvey Gates. "Brass Knuckles" is acclaimed as one of the really big melodramas of the year. It has to do with a crook who wasn't really so crooked, who cares for a motherless waif, fights for her, and finally, with the aid of time, finds her grown to womanhood, and more than willing to be the wife of her husky protector. Others in the cast are William Russell, George Stone, Paul Panzer and Jack Curtis.

STAGE STAR IN TALKIE FILM HERE

Acting in the talking pictures is simple—for the expert. Even in the most exacting scenes, it probably does not require much more lucidity of mind than playing a couple of chess games simultaneously while blindfolded. This description of the talking picture players' art comes from Millard Webb who has just completed the direction of Walter Huston and a large cast of well known stage actors in Paramount's picture of Ward Morcoussie's successful Broadway play, "Gentlemen of the Press," which opens tonight at the Fox-California theater.

Webb put Huston through the paces, especially in one scene which even long experienced stage and picture artists viewed with wonder. The scene in question shows Huston in a newspaper office trying to get away to the hospital where his daughter is desperately ill. A sensational news story is breaking.

Huston had to be mindful at ways of four microphones and three cameras and the brightness and shadow of a battery of lights. He had to talk over the telephone and, at the same time, direct a dozen persons in the office. He had to sit and stand up, walk to the door and back to his desk, taking all-together eleven positions always followed by the camera.

Huston had to be careful also of the tilt of his face in order that his voice might be sent most effectively to the microphone. He had to express a wide range of emotions, joy, worry, indifference, excitement, perplexity, dominance, fatality and a few others. Through it all he had to remember his lines, speak them convincingly and carry out his action naturally.

All this took place in 23 feet of film—less than three minutes of showing time. Huston performed it perfectly and Webb directed it with such absence of flattery that a visitor on the set couldn't have helped thinking it was pretty soft to work in the movies.

Also on the bill is a screaming all talking comedy "Unkissed Men" and Fox talking news.

SCHMELING IN VICTORY AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 27.—(U.P.)—Max Schmeling, Germany's heavy-weight pugilist, defeated Paulino Uzcudun, rugged Basque, in a 15 round bout here tonight before a crowd of 40,000 which paid almost $500,000 to see the Milk Fund charity program.

Paulino, game to the core, was on his feet at the end, but only his carriage and heart prevented him from being knocked out by the German who looks like Jack Dempsey. Schmeling cut the Basque to pieces with a vicious attack.

At the end the crowd was ready to cheer that this black haired Texan youngster is on a road that leads to the heavy weight championship.

After the tenth round there was never any doubt about the outcome.

Up to this point, Paulino had held the German about even but from the fifth on it was only a question of whether the Basque would be able to stay the limit.

His face and body covered with blood, Paulino tried a possible fight as he collapsed to his feet after the final bell.

If the last exchange had not taken place in the Basque's corner, it is doubtful if he would have been able to walk to his place.

JUNIOR NINE WILL PLAY SUNDAY

The Richmond Junior baseball champions will meet the Pittsburgh team in the first game of the county finals at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning in Brentwood.

The game was originally scheduled for tomorrow morning but a shift in the arrangements postponed the play until Sunday. The game is regarded as important since the winner of the series will play in the Eastbay finals for the right to compete in the state games.

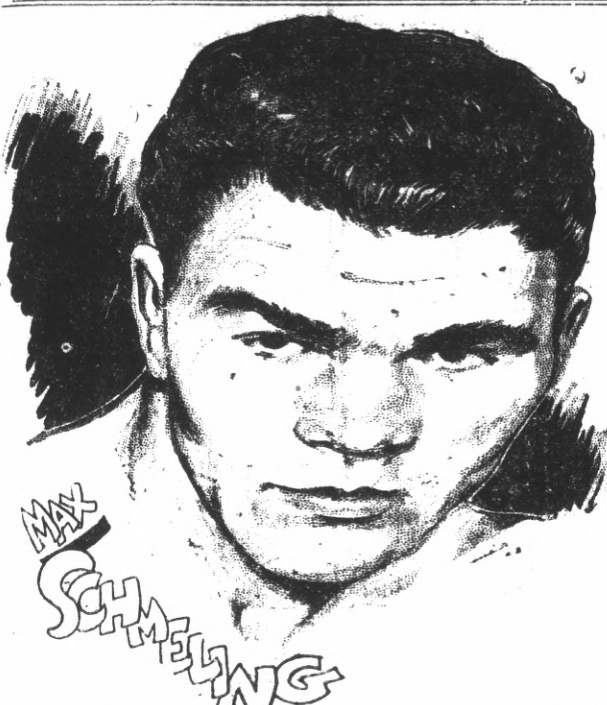

Those in charge of the club are anxious to have a caravan of 50 or more automobiles accompany the team to Brentwood and cheer the local boys to victory.

League Contest Here Delayed

The Richmond Firemen and Boiler Shop teams were scheduled to meet at the First street diamond last night but due to a misunderstanding, the game was postponed.

The Boiler Shop learned that the Firemen wouldn't play but the team made its appearance

OAKS LOSE TO DUCKS IN THIRD

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—(U.P.)—Hold of the San Francisco Seals on second place of the Pacific Coast league was made a little more secure today but they failed to diminish the five game difference between them and the league leading San Francisco Missions.

A two run rally by the Seals in the last of the ninth inning gave them a 2 to 1 victory over Los Angeles, which had broken a scoreless contest with one run in the eighth.

However, the Missions also won making three runs in the fourth inning to insure their 4 to 2 victory over Hollywood. The leaders were out but the Seals made three errors.

Oakland dropped two games behind the Seals by losing to Portland, 10 to 5. The Oaks had just taken the lead when, in the last half of the fifth, Portland scored five runs.

Sacramento had little trouble in beating Seattle, 4 to 1.

Austria had 28,230 motor vehicles in operation at the beginning of this year, according to the California State Automobile association.

and found that two other shops hadn't shown up. The game will be played at some future date.

KEY CHIEF GIVES REASON FOR CRISIS

The management of the Key System Transit company will bring about a complete change in the financial structure so that the company will be in a position to obtain all the new capital necessary for expansion, according to A. J. Lundberg, president.

Lundberg stated 16 reasons for the financial crisis of the company which he alleges is a result of the reorganization in 1923 which culminated nearly 10 years of argument among the security holders.

These reasons were put in the form of suggestions for relief, which, if they had been followed, he said, would have averted the present difficulties of the company. They are:

1. Relief from the burden of paying between the tracks and two feet on each side, inherited from the days when horse cars wore out the paving.
2. Relief from moving and replacing rails and poles for street widening.
3. Installation of effective safety zones to facilitate loading and unloading passengers.
4. Devotion of track area exclusively to street car operation wherever street width permits.
5. Relief from excessive taxation.
6. Relief from contributions to public treasuries, such as street lighting, bus license taxes and other charges.
7. Relief from contribution to construction and maintenance of bridges and tubes which are constructed as public highways.
8. Reduction of rentals on public property used by the company entirely for public service.
9. Relief from burden of carrying municipal employees and others for nothing.
10. Relief from prohibitory franchise regulations.
11. Repeal of obsolete legislation such as the city ordinance requiring an obsolete type of fender on street cars.
12. Complete elimination of parking on congested areas.
13. Co-operation by the public in patronizing as a matter of public welfare, the carrier giving the most extensive service.
14. Shifting the burden of reduced fares for school children.
15. Provision that a portion of the cost of new extensions be born by new subdivisions which are developed by such extensions.
16. Co-operation of municipalities and civic bodies in securing rate increases when it is shown such increases are necessary for a reasonable return on the investment.

"The costs of operation are largely beyond the control of any management," Lundberg declared, "the chief items being wages, power and taxes."

"Many of these charges are unjust, an example being the paying requirements. This obligation was placed in the company's franchises at a time when paving cost 4 cents a square foot. Now it costs 26 cents or more and provides a highway for the company's chief competitor, the private automobile, which robs it of its patronage and slows down the service."

"Street widenings also are intended primarily for the benefit of automobile owners, and the company is forced to pay a large share of the cost."

"Taxes alone on the Key System's property during 1927 were $464,000 while the company only earned $483,000 on its investment of $27,000,000."

There are 4,341,000 people employed in the automobile industry in the United States, according to the California State Automobile association.

The latest fish story was revealed here yesterday by Art Squier, local newspaper circulation man.

A crew of men are at work keeping the pipes clear. Art said, after a visit to the reservoir.

ALL AMERICAN CANAL ROUTE INSPECTED

YUMA, Ariz., June 27.—UP—Dr. Elwood Mead, federal commissioner of reclamation, and his consulting engineers, arrived here by airplane today from El Centro, Calif., for a four day inspection tour of the Yuma project and the route of the All-American canal.

Dr. Mead was accompanied by his wife, Louis G. Hill, reclamation engineer, and R. G. Walters, chief engineer of the reclamation service. The officials were guests at a Kiwanis club luncheon.

In a brief talk, Dr. Mead said that the final obstacle to Boulder Dam was eliminated during his visit to Los Angeles when power companies agreed verbally to purchase all power developed at the dam. He expressed the hope that Arizona would soon join the other six Colorado basin states.

JUDGE'S TRIAL WILL GO TO JURY TODAY

MacKinnon at 1:30 in the afternoon and that he was not drunk, in his opinion.

MacKinnon was then called back to the stand. He testified that he and Captain Belon of the traffic force had a disagreement over the large number of traffic cases booked in his court. He said the court became so congested that he had to hire an assistant and that he complained to Belon over the situation.

"Driver Cursed Him"

When Keefe arrested him, MacKinnon charged the officer cursed him but the jurist could not recall cursing the officer. He said Keefe addressed him, saying, "You're not dealing with Heath or Cheek, now," referring to Chief of Police R. R. Cheek of El Cerrito and former Traffic Officer Bert Heath.

Mrs. Edna Gallagher, a guest at the new famous birthday Party, was then called to the stand. She declared that Judge MacKinnon complained of being ill during the party.

Heath Called

Bert Heath took the stand and testified that he had introduced Keefe to MacKinnon during a light raid in 1922. Keefe had previously testified that he did not know MacKinnon.

Under examination by District Attorney A. B. Tinning, Heath admitted that he had been fired from the traffic force in 1922 by Tinning on a charge of driving while drunk.

The court that the charge against Heath was never pressed because there was no sustaining witness. MacKinnon was then placed on the stand again and he told of the test given him by Dr. Beede.

Doctors Called

Dr. G. Peters of Pittsburg and Dr. W. E. Cunningham of Richmond were then called to the stand by the defense. Both doctors testified that the odor of a foul stomach and that of alcohol on one's breath was so similar that a layman could hardly distinguish the difference.

The prosecution then summoned Thomas Matthews, a service station operator, to the stand. Matthew had testified several days ago that MacKinnon had entered the service station and had purchased cigars. During the transaction, Matthews declared, the odor of liquor on the jurist's breath was very plain.

Sides Rest

Defense attorneys Tom Carlson, Johnson and Hugh Donovan objected to examination of the witness on the grounds that it was not a proper rebuttal. Objection was sustained by Judge Alvarado.

Both sides then rested their case.

The trial will be resumed at nine o'clock tomorrow morning. There will be the usual arguments by both defense and prosecution and the jury will be charged by Judge Alvarado.

It is expected that the case will go to the jury at an early hour tomorrow afternoon.

CONCLAVE OF ANTI-DRYS OPENS

COPENHAGEN, June 27.—(UP)—

The international anti-prohibition congress, with some 300 delegates from 18 countries, opened here today, and was addressed by Premier T. H. Stauning, an American delegate and a Finnish delegate.

Premier Stauning, in his speech, of welcome, said that all must agree that laws which are to decide the citizen's way of living in respect to consumption of liquor, must be the result of close investigation with reference to the general social effect.

"Liquor is a luxury," he said, "but a favorite one with many. It is also an article of great commercial value. We must remember that production and sale of alcoholic drinks has been as a general rule, for centuries, conducted with the consent of laws and public opinion."

Max Henius of Chicago, reading a speech of Hugh F. Fox, New York editor who has not yet arrived, traced the growth of the prohibition movement in the United States, with special reference to the work of the W. C. T. U. and the anti-saloon league.

"After ten years of trial and error, the available records show it has failed to achieve any of the benefits sought by its sponsors," he said.

Professor Ehrnrooth of Finland read a paper entitled "Ten Years' Experience of the Effects of Prohibition in Finland." He terms the law "only an act on paper" and attributed increased lawlessness to the failure of prohibition.

Harty Barnshaw of Edinburgh also spoke, attacking local opinion in Great Britain.

Emeryville Man Pleads Guilty To Charge Here

Charged with violation of the state pay day law, John Sarattus, of 1460 Sixty-seventh street, Emeryville, pleaded guilty yesterday before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Alstrom. Judge Alstrom took the case under advisement and will pass sentence shortly.

Peter Ends of 824 Nevil avenue who was employed by Sarattus in the latter's restaurant, swore to the complaint.

TWO KILLED IN POWDER TRUCK EXPLOSION

AUBURN, June 27.—UP—Explosion of a large truck load of dynamite and powder near Baxter, a few miles from here, killed two men and disrupted transcontinental telephone communication late today.

The only persons on the truck, R. G. Case, driver, and an unidentified man, were instantly killed by the blast so the cause could not be determined.

The truck, which left the Trojan powder works at Oakland last night, was completely demolished. Sparks from the blaze that followed spread to dry grass along the highway and in a short time a large area of ground was on fire.

Telephone communication was entirely disrupted due to the fact that all lines were torn down by parts of the truck hurled into the air.
